

Andrew Moss Acting Chief of Staff

Andrew Moss is the Acting Chief of Staff at the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC).

In this role, Mr. Moss advances the priorities of the Acting Comptroller and directs the daily operations of the Acting Comptroller's support staff. Mr. Moss serves on the Executive Committee and provides advice and counsel to the Acting Comptroller of the Currency and senior OCC executives.

While serving in this role, Mr. Moss remains as Director for Minority Outreach where he oversees the agency's strategies in support of financial inclusion initiatives, including the OCC's Project REACH program.

Previously, Mr. Moss was the Outreach and External Relations Manager within the External Outreach and Minority Affairs Office, where he has also served as the Community Relations and Minority Affairs Manager.

Prior to joining the OCC, Mr. Moss held various positions at the U.S. Department of the Treasury, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the National Community Reinvestment Coalition.

Mr. Moss holds a bachelor of business administration degree in finance and marketing from North Carolina Central University and a master of education administration degree from George Mason University. He also received his juris doctor from the University of Baltimore School of Law.

